Michael and Heather Culbert have continued to provide opportunities for young philanthropists and next generation leaders to give back through time and treasure. In its fifth year, the 2018 Culbert Family Award for Philanthropy was awarded to Adam Le Dain and Brennan O'Yeung, two young professionals who demonstrated that charitable giving and community involvement can come in many forms, but that investing time, energy, and resources in our community is central to their personal and professional lives.

Thank you to the Culbert Family for their continued dedication to encouraging and recognizing philanthropy amongst our city's future leaders.

"We believe United Way is compelling because of its ability to work across a broad range of issues, with multiple stakeholder groups, to solve complex problems and improve the lives of people living in Calgary and the surrounding area. With the state of the local economy, the demand for social services is increasing, while at the same time it is becoming harder for our agencies to raise the funds they need to provide important services. Now is the time for Calgarians to show their community spirit by stepping up to support those in need. In the ebb and flow of life, many Calgarians will find themselves in need of help at some time in their life. A strong and caring community takes care of its citizens so that everyone thrives."

– John and Anita Rossall
